What happens when you pick up someone else's life... including their phone?
A REMA(r)KABLE comedy that will leave you speechless.

Baptiste, a brilliant voice imitator, is struggling to make a name for himself. That is, until Pierre Chozène, a famous writer, offers him an unexpected job: answering his phone calls while pretending to be him. Hounded by fans, journalists, and nosy acquaintances, Pierre needs peace and quiet to finish his most personal novel. Baptiste accepts the job and becomes the writer's official voice, but soon realizes that stepping into Pierre's shoes comes with a whirlwind of complications.

A madcap comedy about a monumental trick, starring Kad Merad as the Pope, unfortunately inspired by several unknown true events.

To celebrate his recent appointment, the newly elected Pope plans a tour of Latin America, only to discover that the Vatican is bankrupt. A wealthy Mexican benefactor offers financial support on the condition that he attends an event in his honor in Ciudad Juarez – Mexico's notorious crime capital. However, things take a turn when the Pope, or rather his lookalike, is unmasked, and the so-called 'guardian angel' turns out to be a drug trafficker willing to do anything to recover her 5 million euros.

Amidst the captivating landscapes of Reunion Island, a universal drama delving into family fractures, set to the pulsating rhythm of breakdancing.

Thomas, a 15-year-old from Reunion, has only one dream: to win a breakdance competition and escape to the big city. But when his mother abruptly throws him and his sister out onto the streets, their world is shattered. Sent to live with a father they've never known, they must confront their mother's abandonment and are left to process it on their own. Amidst the painful journey of rebuilding, torn between rebellion and embracing their newfound freedom, they must rely on their sibling bond to take back control of their lives.

This new film brings back the iconic spirit of Strip-Tease to the big screen. Building on the César-winning success of So Help Me God, it promises to take the cult Belgian show to exciting new heights of political incorrectness.

In five sketchings: the sensitive, touching, sometimes absurd, often funny, at times dark or luminous but ever so true-to-life paintings of human society in its wonderful triviality.

Awarded three times the Eric Hosking Award BBC Wildlife
Photographer of the Year.

After the success of The Velvet Queen at the Cannes Film Festival, César award-winner filmmaker Vincent Munier returns with a new ode to nature.

Delving deep into the woodland realms, where lynxes, bears, deer, owls, capercaillies, and other river creatures roam, Munier not only seeks to pay tribute once again to the visual splendor of nature but also to capture the forest's poetic sounds. The whispers of the woods are echoing the whispers passed from Munier's father to himself, and now to his own son. This becomes a heartfelt declaration of Munier's love for his father, intertwining familial bonds with the untamed beauty of the natural world.

A contemporary and offbeat romantic comedy about a young French bookseller infused with the world of Jane Austen's novels.

Agathe, hopelessly clumsy yet charming and full of contradictions, finds herself in desperate singlehood. Her dream is to experience love akin to a Jane Austen novel and her ultimate aspiration is to become a writer. Instead, she spends her days selling books in the legendary British Bookshop, Shakespeare & Co, in Paris. Invited to the Jane Austen Writers' Residency in England, she must confront her insecurities to finally fulfill her ambition of becoming a novelist and put an end to wasting her sentimental life.

A Belgian comedy speaking about art taking place in French Normandy with a colorful atmosphere.

Jean-Yves Machond (Benoît Poelvoorde), a conceptual painter whose career came to an abrupt halt following a series of setbacks, decides to leave Brussels and his job as a teacher to settle in Étretat (in French Normandy), the ultimate embodiment of Impressionism. Here, he is seeking inspiration to create his major work that, once presented to the world, will finally earn him eternal glory and recognition. The problem is, he has no idea what he wants to paint. There, between Bagnoule, a figurative painter and bon vivant, a naive, warm-hearted individual who will draw him out of his lethargy with his bonhomie, and the 'charming' Cécile de Mauprès (Camille Cottin) gallery owner and manipulator who will disrupt his concentration, his meeting with the locals will provedecisive for the fulfilment of his plan. Reality can be a bitch.
