Every masterpiece has its flaws...

A true story-based period thriller about the man known as 'The Cézanne of fake money'.

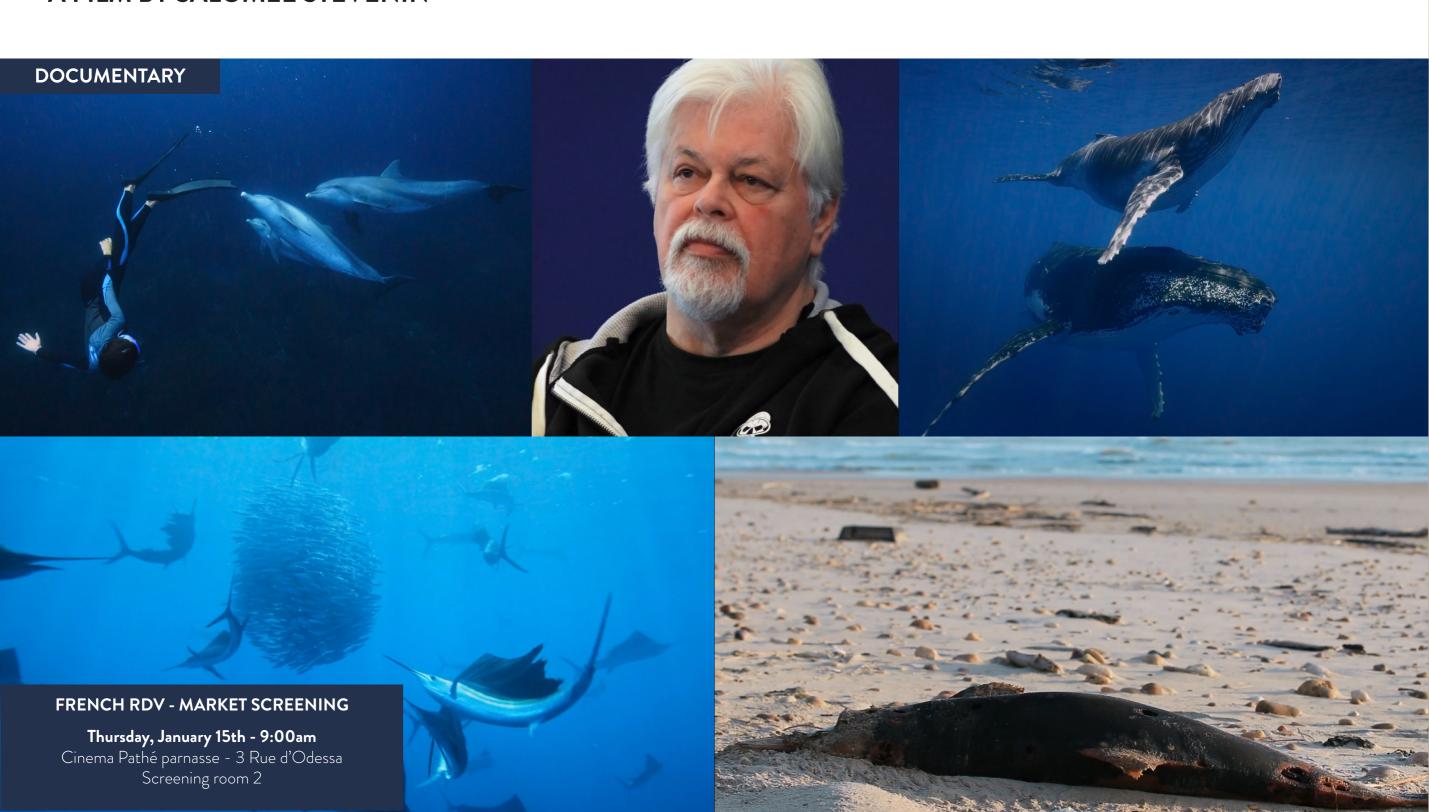

Set in post-war France, the film stars Reda Kateb as Bojarski, a real-life Polish refugee who became the most ingenious counterfeiter of his time. For over 15 years, he secretly produced near-perfect banknotes in his own backyard—so authentic they could fool the Bank of France itself. But his illusion catches the relentless attention of Commissioner Mattei (Bastien Bouillon), whose obsession with capturing Bojarski turns into a thrilling game of cat and mouse.

The Wild Soul reveals an ocean therapy, a return to the sea we all come from

The film offers an odyssey towards the self, an invitation to rediscover sensitivity. It is a journey through time, countries, and elements - water, earth, mountains, form - an expedition that intimately explores, without judgment or taboo, the relationship human maintain with other species, as well as the awareness we have of ourselves and of our planet.

With interviews of Paul Watson, Matthieu Ricard, Trich Nhat Hanh and Lamya Essemlali.

Available worldwide excluding France

After the success of The Velvet Queen at the Cannes Film Festival,

César award-winning filmmaker Vincent Munier returns with a new ode to nature.

Delving deep into the woodland realms, where lynxes, bears, deer, owls, capercaillies, and other river creatures roam, Munier not only seeks to pay tribute once again to the visual splendor of nature but also to capture the forest's poetic sounds. The whispers of the woods are echoing the whispers passed from Munier's father to himself, and now to his own son. This becomes a heartfelt declaration of Munier's love for his father, intertwining familial bonds with the untamed beauty of the natural world.

What happens when you pick up someone else's life... including their phone?

A REMA(r)KABLE comedy that will leave you speechless.

Baptiste, a brilliant voice imitator, is struggling to make a name for himself. That is until Pierre Chozène, a famous writer, offers him an unexpected job: answering his phone calls while pretending to be him. Hounded by fans, journalists, and nosy acquaintances, Pierre needs peace and quiet to finish his most personal novel. Baptiste accepts the job and becomes the writer's official voice, but soon realizes that stepping into Pierre's shoes comes with a whirlwind of complications.
